

General Practitioner or Tropical Physician (ShortTerm)

Working within SEHCF means working on holistic care for residents that connects lifestyle, prevention, optimal treatment, and nursing care in a strong network on the island and in the region. As a General Practitioner or Tropical physician, you get the unique opportunity to gain new experiences in the Caribbean Netherlands and in a dynamic work environment where broad care questions arise. Empathy, team spirit, flexibility and being solution-oriented are keywords that describe you as a doctor.

The function

You hold GP consultations, make diagnoses, coordinate with the multidisciplinary care team or medical specialists from other islands and you can decide whether is needed to send a patient abroad for further care. Your duties also include emergency care, nursing home care, community care and care for patients who are temporarily admitted (primary-plus care) and if you have these skills, you perform minor surgical procedures. The care needs are very diverse, and the range of tasks is broad, which means that every working day is different.

Of course, you are not alone: you work closely with a multidisciplinary care team and provide 24/7 medical care in collaboration with the other doctors. The care team offers general primary-plus patient care, including prevention. Various specialists visit St. Eustatius for consultations, other care is referred to other island and/or countries.

You profile

1. A BIG - or equivalent - registered, broadly oriented general practitioner and/o tropical physician;
2. In addition to your experience as a general practitioner, you bring extra knowledge and skills with you. For example, experience in acute medicine or experience in internal medicine, surgery or you have completed the training as a tropical physician.
3. You have the ability to work within the context of St. Eustatius, you know how to empathize with the patients.
4. Good command of the English language (spoken and written);
5. Excellent communication skills. You are able to listen and build bridges where necessary, overcome resistance and communicate at different levels with a wide range of stakeholders;
6. You are a team player, you give and receive feedback and together with the team you deliver results for the benefit of the population of the island;
7. You are available full-time;
8. Flexibility is a must; as the range of tasks is comprehensive and the island context can be isolated;
9. You are willing to commit for at least 2 months (extension is possible); § Foreign work experience is not a must but is a plus.
